Are you an experienced Supply Chain Planner / Data Analyst with a background in FMCG? Do you have experience developing and maintaining Excel/Access based tools to support processes? Can you liaise with contract manufacturers, sharing forecasts and placing replenishment orders?

If the answer is yes - then look no further. Church & Dwight UK Ltd have an exciting opportunity for a Supply Chain Data Analyst to join our team based in Folkestone, Kent, on a one-year, fixed-term contract.

This role will support the European Supply Planning Team by developing and maintaining Excel/Access based tools to support Supply Chain processes. You will work on inventory and product lifecycle for Church and Dwight Europe, for contract manufacturers and co-packed products.

Finally, this role is also involved in significant projects and requires the ability to work cross functionally, source and analyse data from our SAP system, and to generate solutions in our fast-paced commercial environment. Attention to detail and the ability to flex with changing circumstances are vital.

Organisational and communication skills are key to this role, with the ability to build relationships at all levels. The ideal candidate will have experience within an FMCG environment and French language skills would be an advantage. Advanced Microsoft Excel skills are paramount along with programming and development skills.

This is a great opportunity to work with a recognisable global brand and shape its future. Sounds interesting? Send us your CV confirming your salary expectations and let's talk! HRDepartment.UK@Churchdwight.com
